RULE GUIDANCE
Guidance & Discipline Policies

GUIDANCE TOPIC
The provider must have a written guidance and discipline policy. It must be simple and understandable to the child, parent(s), caregivers and substitute caregivers. The written guidance and discipline policy must be provided to all parents. Although volunteers should be familiar with the guidance and discipline policy, volunteers cannot provide guidance or discipline to a child. Only providers, staff and substitutes shall provide guidance or discipline to child care children.

WHY THESE RULES ARE IN PLACE
Guidance is most effective when it is consistent, reinforces desired behaviors and offers natural and logical consequences for negative behaviors. Discipline is best received when it includes positive guidance, redirection, and setting clear-cut limits that foster the child’s ability to develop self-control. In order to respond effectively when children display challenging behavior, it is beneficial for caregivers to understand typical social and emotional development and behaviors. This is an ongoing process to help children develop inner control so they can manage their own behavior.

HOW THIS MAY LOOK IN YOUR PROGRAM
An early learning caregiver must work to maintain positive relationships with children by using consistent guidance techniques and modeling prosocial behaviors and problem-solving strategies.

Young children need caregivers to:
1. Establish a safe and trusted environment. Consistent routines are key.
2. Show children you care for them.
3. Validate children’s feelings, ideas, and words.
4. Be a positive role model. Remember that children watch & learn from everything you say and do.
5. Set each child up for success.
6. Offer acceptable choices.
7. Allow for natural consequences.

Policy Sample #1
The word discipline comes from the Latin word to teach. We will teach your child self-control, respect for themselves and others, and responsibility for their actions. We do this by setting limits that are fair, enforcing them firmly and lovingly, using redirection, and setting up the environment to reduce conflict & frustration. Providing children with acceptable choices often helps them to refocus on the situation in a positive way. When conflicts occur we help facilitate social problem-solving giving young children the practice and skills they need to negotiate, verbalize their feeling, and compromise as they learn to solve problems for themselves. Our day follows a predictable pattern so children know what to expect, while we model teamwork and caring for each other.
Policy Sample #2
Positive child guidance/discipline techniques are used in order to assist children with learning self-control and positive social skills. Conflict situations are handled with empathy and redirection. Strong communication with parents is also a top priority.

A focus on prevention and positive guidance techniques will include:
- Modeling appropriate behavior for the children
- Listening to the children
- Giving acceptable choices whenever possible
- Encouraging the children
- Noticing when the children are making safe and/or appropriate choices
- Setting age appropriate limits for the children
- Modifying the classroom environment to attempt to prevent problems before they occur
- Ignoring minor misbehaviors
- Role play common issues to provide "practice" social situations
- Explaining things to the children at their level
- Providing children with natural and logical consequences for their behavior
- Planning for successful transitions
- Explaining expectations ahead of time
- Using short supervised periods of "time out," only when/if necessary

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION
There are no exemptions for the use of corporal discipline in child care. Likewise, parents cannot authorize or grant permission for the use of any type of prohibited punishment in licensed child care program in Oregon.

Research links corporal punishment with negative effects such as later criminal behavior and impairment of learning. Child care policies should explicitly prohibit any form of corporal punishment.

The caregiver shall not accept parental permission to use any form of prohibited or corporal punishment.

Child care policies should explicitly prohibit any form of corporal punishment including (but not limited to):
- Hitting, slapping, shaking, striking with hand or instrument, pinching, tying or binding, or inflicting any other form of corporal punishment;
- Mental or emotional punishment including, but not limited to, name calling, ridicule, yelling, or threats;
- Non-prescription chemical restraints used for discipline or to control behavior;
- Confining a child in an enclosed area, (e.g., a locked or closed room, closet, box);
- Forcing or withholding meals, snacks, rest, or necessary toilet use; or
- Belittling a child for or forcing a child to clean up after toileting accidents.

OCC LICENSING SPECIALIST MAY REVIEW
The LS will review the program’s guidance and discipline policy for each of the components required in rule, and how the policy is shared with parents, caregivers, staff & substitutes.
